

1870, ch. 187.

173. The county commissioner for each election district shall have general supervision over the several public roads and bridges in his district, and it shall be his duty to see that they are kept in good repair; and he is empowered to suspend any road supervisor in his district for neglect of duty; and in case of such suspension, he shall report the same to the board of commissioners, who may dismiss such offender.

Ibid.

174. The county commissioners shall determine the per diem to be allowed to the several supervisors, hands, horses, wagons, carts and plows, and the number of hours that shall constitute a day's work, and cause the same to be entered upon the minutes of their proceedings, and shall notify the supervisors thereof in writing; and they are authorized and empowered to levy a tax on the assessable property of the county sufficient to carry into effect the provisions of this sub-title of this article.

Ibid.

175. They are empowered to fill all vacancies that may occur amongst said supervisors.

1884, ch. 300.

176. Any person who shall recklessly shoot along any public road or highway, or on the streets of any town or village in Montgomery county, thereby causing injury to persons, stock or vehicles, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before a justice of the peace shall, at the discretion of the said justice, be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars and costs for each offence; the fine shall be doubled in every instance if the offence be committed in the night, or on Sunday; and the offender shall be committed to the county jail until such fines and costs are paid, or until discharged by due process of law.

1888, ch. 378.

177. It shall be the duty of every teamster or driver of any wagon, carriage, cart or other vehicle, drawn by a horse or mule, to remain with the same whilst traveling on any turnpike or pub-
